23. What did you like about this course?

(4 people did not answer this question)

- Professor Alves is one of the best professors with which I have ever had the pleasure of working. He is extremely knowledgeable in the subject matter. He challenges his students in a way that brings out their full potential. Professor Alves has taught me so much and my skill level has dramatically increased under his instruction. I am disappointed that more was not done to keep Professor Alves as a professor at this school. The University is a better institution with him here. (1)
- Everything (1)
- I have to say one of the more enjoyable things about the course was the passion of the professor to effectively reach out to the students. I can honestly say that his teaching allowed me to become an even stronger programmer and has continued to instill a hard working mentality. A professor like this allows students the opportunity to achieve excellence and he will be missed by the students. (1)
- I really like the professor as well as the material. Professor Alves is one of the best programming professors I have ever had. He brought out the best programmer in me. It is a terrible shame that he is not staying and this is a devastation lose for the ECE department. I have to question the judgement of any administration who would not do everything in its power to keep him as a member of the faculty. (1)

24. What worked the best in assisting your learning in this course?

(6 people did not answer this question)

- the arduino uno micro-controller allowed for a practical application of the material that we learned (1)

25. What can be done to improve this course?

(6 people did not answer this question)

- keep Professor Alves. He has made this course incredibly difficult but it was very worth it. I learned an phenomenal amount from him and i think that his ideas for the direction of the course could be very beneficial to the ECE program and the rest of the College of engineering in general. (1)
- Nothing (1)
